Merging Mail-In and Online Strategies For Better Winning Opportunities

By Nick Taylor

We understand that our future success depends on providing you with valuable information in this newsletter that gives you a winning edge. Most sweepstakes may now be entered online and this is why we maintain an active database of online sweepstakes for our subscribers to access by logging in to our website. While there are sweepstakes to enter by mail and not online available, they are not as common as they used to be, and of course the entry pool is larger when online entries are included with your mail-in entries. This can be frustrating for those who do not have Internet access and do not enter sweepstakes online. There still are a lot of good mail-in opportunities to enter and win sweepstakes. For those without computers, I think the best opportunities are sweepstakes offered online that require a purchase or survey of some type, but yet offer a mail-in entry alternative not requiring a purchase or survey. Many online entries are also restricted to one entry per person or per day, while the mail-in entries are not restricted. A lot of online instant-win games with a mail-in option are also available offering many great prizes and are often tied in with a second chance drawing. And of course the usual entries that are not available online, second chance drawings, regional drawings, etc.

For those of us with computers, there are even more opportunities to merge our traditional mail-in hobby with online entries. Some of these promotions are structured in such a way, that can give us a much greater advantage than others that only enter sweepstakes online. We have been listing instructions to request codes for "unique code" sweepstakes. You must either purchase a product to obtain a unique code, or mail for a code to play online. Most of these promotions offer fantastic prizes. We believe that most online sweepstakes do not bother with these as it is time consuming to understand the rules offering "no purchase" entry alternatives, and they are not in the "mode" of sending in entries or requests by mail.

Lately we have noticed another trend taking hold. We have been seeing more online sweepstakes requiring registration with a "rewards program" or some other registration. Usually, you must "earn" entries with product rewards points from purchases. They must offer a way to enter without a purchase, and this usually is with a mail-in alternative entry. Most of these promotions require you to set up a rewards account online for free prior to your mail-in entry. Because we feel many of these sweepstakes are very good to enter by mail, even though they require online access to register an account, we have decided to include them in the newsletter going forward.

Most successful sweepers I know utilize the Internet to enter sweepstakes, but are not dedicated to online sweepstakes and see the true advantage to looking for opportunities that do not draw the masses of entries - both online and by mail!

The Wins Add Up

By Jenny Walker

IT ADDS UP. I had never heard of sweepstake as a hobby until 1998. I received a couple of sample sweepstakes newsletters in the mail. One was from Best Sweepstakes. I decided it was the Occasionally a newsletter may get delayed or lost in the mail. If you do not receive your newsletter by the 20th of the month (example: February's issue should be received by January 20th), please send a postcard to: Best Publications, PO Box 421163, Plymouth, MN 55442. You may also call our fax/voicemail number at (763) 537-4037, or e-mail us at nick@bestsweepstakes.com and we will immediately ship out a replacement via first class mail. If it is too late for a replacement issue, we will send the missing issue and credit your account for the missing issue. Please note: we cannot return phone call messages - please send a self addressed, stamped envelope or use e-mail to correspond with us.

Subscriber Articles

Since it can be helpful and interesting to learn how others win sweepstakes, we would like to have our subscribers write articles of 500-1000 words pertaining to sweepstakes. If your article is selected to be published we will pay $20 and extend your subscription 1-year.

General Rules

All sweepstakes entries should be hand printed. All 3x5 and 3-1/2x5 cards and papers (we recommend white, unlined cards & papers) must be mailed in an envelope unless the word postcard is used. Only one entry per envelope. Enter as often as you like, unless a restriction is stated. Unless otherwise noted, sweepstakes open to U.S. residents, overseas military bases, possessions, and territories.

better of the two and subscribed. I knew no one who had this hobby. So there was no one with whom I could trade info or compare methods. My friends watched as prizes started to come in for me and called me lucky. I knew that was not right. It was work entering--- completing entry papers, being persistent, and being on the look-out for other sweeps. But it was fun to me. Like Christmas everyday. I never know what the mail might bring. I have kept a record of my wins since I started except for the little things like caps and T-shirts. I have won over $14,000 in cash and prizes in twelve years! That averages over $1100 a year. I was amazed. Especially since the last couple of years seemed sparse. It does add up. Some of my bigger wins includes a racing sailboat, a three day trip to New York with a spa day, $2500 cash for a laundry room make-over, a three day trip to an NCAA tournament, a metal detector, and $1000 cash. In the blink of an eye, you can go from a dry winning spell to $50,000! So just keep it fun. You will not be disappointed but very possibly astounded. Good winning to you.
